

WIDE University, School of Internet

Keiko Okawa[1]

[1] WIDE Project, SOI WG

<http://www.sfc.wide.ad.jp/soi>

WIDE University, School of Internet is an experimental University to research about the new higher education on the Internet infrastructure. Many trials have been performed since October 1997, starting with lectures by WIDE members. Some of the activities are reviewed to discuss the plausible development of the higher education at the age of Internet and problems to be emerged from it.