

Long term ocean bottom seismological observation at the Southern East Pacific Rise

Masashi Mochizuki [1], Toshihiko Kanazawa [2], Azusa Nishizawa [3], Tetsuro Urabe [4], Kiyoyuki Kisimoto [5]

[1] ERI, Univ. of Tokyo, [2] ERI, Tokyo Univ, [3] Hydrographic Department, [4] Geol. Surv. Japan, [5] Research Counselors Offi., GSJ

Long term detailed monitoring of seismicity is necessary to understand active processes occurring at mid ocean ridges. We performed long term ocean bottom seismological observation in the southern East Pacific Rise, using new ocean bottom seismometers which we have been developing for long term observation. In this presentation, we will introduce this observation and its results.