

What International Aid Agencies can do To Reduce Deaths from Earthquake -Implication from Case Study on Tashkent City-

Akio Shimono [1], Ken Sudo [2]

[1] INCEDE, IIS, U-Tokyo, [2] INCEDE, IIS, Univ. of Tokyo

<http://prelude.iis.u-tokyo.ac.jp/~sudolab/>

One of the most important topics of disaster mitigation is the reduction the number of casualties. This study discusses the ways of international cooperation for the achievement of this goal through a case study implemented on one of the RADIUS cities, Tashkent, Uzbekistan.

<図1> 日干しレンガ、石積み、コンクリート構造物の被害評価