

GPS measurements at Matsumoto basin and Hida mountains, central Japan

Yoshio Sumino[1]

[1] Dept. of Geology, Shinshu Univ

Since 1991, geodetic measurements with GPS have been conducted in Matsumoto basin and Hida mountains, central Japan . A large change of strain rate were found in these area during 1998 with seismic activity.