

Aftershock Observation for East off Tanegashima Is. Earthquake on JAN24, 1999 using Ocean Bottom Seismograph

Hiroshi Katao[1], Sou Nishimura[1], Susumu Saito[2], Masataka Ando[3]

[1] RCEP, DPRI, Kyoto Univ., [2] Seismological and Volcanological Department, JMA, [3] DPRI, Kyoto Univ.

Six ocean bottom seismographs were deployed to observe aftershocks for the East Off Tanegashima Is. Earthquake (M6.2) on JAN24, 1999. In the same area, large earthquake (M6.2) occurred in 1996. Aftershock distribution for the 1999 Earthquake and comparison with that of the 1996 are important to know the seismic coupling around this area.