

Development of Hypocenter Determination Method Using 3D Velocity Structure - Preliminary Report -

Masaki Nakamura[1], Yasuhiro Yoshida[1], Hidekuni Kuroki[2], Kazumitsu Yoshikawa[3], Kenji Fujiwara[4], Nobuo hamada[5]

[1] MRI, [2] Seismological and Volcanological Dep.,J.M.A., [3] Japan Meteorological Agency, [4] Seismology and Volcanology,MRI, [5] JMA

We began to develop the hypocenter determination method with 3D velocity structure. To accomplish this method, we think the following approach: determination of 3D velocity structure all over Japan, calculating inverse travel time data for each observation station in Japan with this 3D velocity structure, and conventional hypocenter determination with non-linear least-squares method.