

Geoid-viscosity inversion using new tomographic models

Motoyuki Kido[1]

[1] JST Domestic Res. Follow @ JAMSTEC

We revisit our former result using new seismic tomographic data. Our former result show existence of low viscosity zone at just below the 660km discontinuity.