

Anharmonic effective pair potentials of gold under high-pressure and high-temperature

Maki Okube[1], Akira Yoshiasa[1], Osamu Ohtaka[2], Hiroshi Fukui[2], wataru uthumi[3], yoshinori katayama[3]

[1] Earth and Space Sci., Osaka Univ., [2] Earth and Space Science, Osaka Univ, [3] JAERI

Anharmonic effective pair potentials of gold under high-pressures and high-temperatures have been determined by EXAFS technique. The thermal expansion coefficients have been calculated from the EXAFS experiment results and the reliability of the anharmonic correction in Anderson et al. (1988) is discussed.