

Automatic Determination of Focal Mechanism Solution Using High Sensitivity Seismograph Network

Masaki Nakamura[1]

[1] MRI

I proposed the technique by which automatically we can get initial motion polarity of P wave and S wave, can determine the focal mechanism solution, and can judge whether the solution are determined with sufficient accuracy or not. We can determine the focal mechanism solution with sufficient accuracy and effectively by this technique.