

Z235-005

Room: 101A

Time: May 18 14:45-15:00

Utilization of time-series geographic information for environmental planning

Mamoru Koarai[1]

[1] GSI

GSI has planned to establish the digital time-series geographic informatioun, such as olden topographical maps and olden aerial photos taken by US Military. In this research, the author will intoriduce the utilitization of these information for local development planning or environmental plannning, especially using for vegetational succession on Meiji period.