

E206-011

Room: 201A

Time: May 29 10:55-11:05

Proposal of Cyber Network Earth

Ken T. Murata[1]; Mamoru Ishii[2]; Iku Shinohara[3]

[1] CITE, Ehime University; [2] NICT; [3] ISAS/JAXA

<http://www.infonet.cite.ehime-u.ac.jp>

In the present talk we are going to propose a new platform for studies of the Earth: a Cyber Network Earth. The Cyber Network Earth is a concept to reproduce the Earth both in computers and networks. All of the Earth information are collected in the Cyber Network Earth through the Internet. Computer simulations are also performed, from which anyone can get any information at any time and at any location on the Earth.