

Global Warming and the Ministry of Economy, Trade and Industry

Tomohiro Kondo[1]

[1] Ministry of Economy, Trade and Industry

As several of the environmental problems identified are regional or global in nature, I examine collaborative initiatives that have been under way in the various regions. The final draws on the analysis of socio-economic conditions and critical environmental issues in the region and makes recommendation developing innovative policies towards sustainable development in many regions.

I introduce the topics related to the global warming and environments in the METI in this paper, outlined below.
