On the education of graduate school students and young scientists: approaches of Department of CosmoSciences, Hokkaido university

Kiyoshi Kuramoto[1]

[1] CosmoSci., Hokkaido Univ.

Department of CosmoSciences in Hokkaido University has raised awareness for several issues on the education of graduated students and young scientists particularly through planning of the joint global COE program with the Department of Earth and Planetary Sciences in Kobe University. Some of those issues will be introduced with our search for their solution.
