In order to understand scientific background of the 2007 Noto Hanto earthquake and real-life setting in Oku-Noto and find regional problems deeply, Kanazawa University holds three study tours as field learning for the public. The first study tour is "Getting to the earthquake from the picturesque in Oku-Noto", the second one "Present situation of agriculture and forestry and a possibility of biomass" and the third one "Potentiality of the community in Noto toward reconstruction". We report here the contents of the study tours.
