InterRad is the international association of radiolarists. The 15th InterRad meeting will be held in Japan during 23-27 October in 2017. In relation to this international meeting, we are planning to do something in enhancing a degree of recognition of radiolarians. Our projects include not only research and education but also outreach activities. It is essential for any academic associations to introduce relevant topics into society. The organizing committee of the InterRad 15 will carry out outreach activities continuously and systematically by using available tools.
